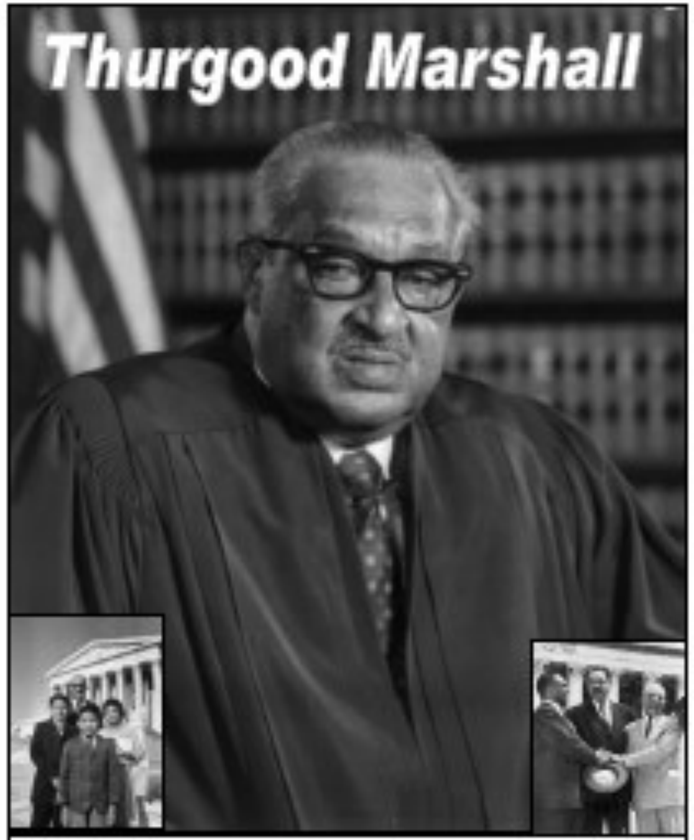
Yesterday.....Today.....Tomorrow



Thurgood Marshall (July 2, 1908 – January 24, 1993) was an American jurist and the first African American to serve on the Supreme Court of the United States. Before becoming a judge. He was a lawyer who was best remembered for his high success rate in arguing before the Supreme Court and for the victory in Brown v. Board of Education.

Mayor Shirley Franklin

On January 7, 2002, history was made in Atlanta, Georgia as Shirley Franklin was inaugurated the city's 58th mayor. She became not only the city's first female mayor, but also the first African--American woman to hold such as position in a major southern city

Judge Patricia Barron

Judge Patricia Barron is a native of Atlanta, Georgia. She grew up in Atlanta during the end of the turbulent civil rights era. She decided at age 12 to become a lawyer.
Upon graduation, Judge Barron attended Mercer University in Macon, Georgia. There she worked as a reporter for the school newspaper, became editor of the first Black student newspaper at the college, and majored in Political Science. She graduated summa cum laude from Mercer in 1970. Upon entering law school at Georgetown University Law Center in Washington, D.C., Judge Barron began a life-long career teaching high school students and young adults in "Street Law". She graduated from Georgetown in 1973.
Judge Barron worked as a poverty rights attorney with Georgia Legal Services for 20 years, before becoming a full time law professor at the University of Georgia School of Law in Athens, Georgia. After two years as a law professor, Judge Barron was sworn in as Associate Magistrate Court Judge of Athens-Clarke County in February 2001. She became Chief Judge of that Court in August 2002.

Judge Steven Jones

Judge Jones was appointed to the Superior Court on December 1, 1995 by Governor Zell Miller. He is a graduate of the University of Georgia and the University of Georgia School of Law. Judge Jones has also been an assistant district attorney for the Western Judicial Circuit and Judge of the Municipal Court of Athens-Clarke County.

Class of 2009
I will follow the path of the leaders of today....
I will be a Lawyer, A Teacher,
& even a Mayor one day,
I will always help others....
I will because I say....
"Yes I can!"

Ebonique Bosby

This board can be divided anyway you
want look at the other examples

This board can be divided anyway you

No divide at all.... all history on a person place or event recognizing the culture we are honoring

Today

Yesterday

Today

This can be your History Piece

Today

These are African Americans today doing what you want to do

Yesterday

This can be your History Piece

Tomorrow

This is about you