Becoming A Mentor

You took the call to help your Country, now your Country needs your help again
.... volunteer to help a youth in need of a mentor

First let us say

Thank you for your service, we appreciate everything you did.

Now let us tell you why we still need you...

There is a big void in qualified, dedicated mentors with a purpose to help our Country. You stepped up once and now we need you again\.

Our future leaders need you!

Did you know there are many teens and young adults that are still trying to figure out where they fit in?

Some are struggling with identity, family troubles, being bullied, loneliness, homeless, and some just need someone to talk too.

You can help them gain that sense of belonging while searching for your own place back in today's society. No one can do it alone.

How Can You Help?

By joining JPN and becoming a mentor; you can assist the ARCH Program by helping us provide structure and positive leadership to our Country's future. Help guide them by cheering them on as they turn their lives around, in a positive direction.

Achieving Reachable Challenges & Heights

ARCH assist teens and young adults in many hands-on activities which help redirect them in life directions & positive career paths. Through the ARCH Transitional Program, students will participate in the work readiness, life skills and workforce training certification programs. Our mentor-driven program provides these participants with the following skills:

- career path identification,
- job search techniques,
- application awareness,
- online assessment completion, professional conversations,
- & job sampling

What's in it for You?

We see you as our key, our participants need structure, guidance and supervision, as well as a cheerleader.

We know many veterans felt that empty feeling of being unappreciated when they returned home or that sense of not fitting in, all we ask is you help guide a teen through those same feelings as they struggle to do the right things.

The young people that we see mainly have war stories, are in and out of detention, expelled from school, or for some reason just feel lost.

Your Benefit

Our Veterans Outreach Team are all Veterans ready to be there for you.

We hope this too will be another sense of pride, knowing you stepped up for your Country once more ... By answering this call of duty and being a part of someone's future as they struggle just to belong.
